PACKERS ENTER THE RETAIL TRADE, CHARGE

(By Associated Press.) BOSTON, Dec. 28.—The charge that the packers are establishing meat stores in various cities for the purpose of driving retailers out of business was made by John Glennie, testifying at the federal investigation into the industry today. He said the packers set their retail prices so low that independent dealers were unable to compete.

INCOME TAX VOLUME BY SCOTT RECEIVED

The Daily Bonanza is in receipt of Joseph J. Scott's volume on the income tax and other federal taxes, which is by all odds the most comprehensive book of its kind published. Scott was formerly collector of internal revenue at San Francisco and is recognized as a leading authority on the income tax. The book clearly explains the various and intricate provisions of the law and makes simple the computation of just how much income tax a man must pay. The volume is indexed so that one may find his own particular needs without the reading of an unnecessary matter. An appendix contains the full text of the laws analyzed and explained.

DONOVAN TO ENTER CAMP FOR OFFICERS

Robert Earl Donovan gained by being recalled from the marine corps by the local exemption board. He left this morning armed with glowing recommendations from the governor and Major J. P. Ryan of the University of Nevada and will enter the officers' training camp at Linda Vista, near San Diego. Young Donovan, who was a student at the university and well known here, enlisted in the marine corps and was stationed at Mare Island when the local board was forced to call him back because he enlisted after his name was posted in the draft lists. Donovan was a corporal in the corps. He will go first to Carson City for a day or two and may then visit in Reno before he leaves for Linda Vista.

DETAILS OF THE U.S. DRIVE ON MEXICANS

(By Associated Press.) MARFA, Tex., Dec. 28.—After pursuing the Mexican bandits who raided the little river town of Candalaria, Tex., Christmas morning for a distance of ten miles into the mountains of Mexico, the American cavalry troops re-crossed the Rio Grande to American territory at noon yesterday and made a complete report to Col. George T. Langhorne of the expedition across the border. The American cavalrymen killed ten members of the bandit band, wounded twenty and scattered the remaining bandits in the mountains south of the line. They brought back 25 horses which had been so badly ridden they had to be abandoned at the river. The total number of bandits now known to have been killed is eleven, although it is believed that more than twenty were killed and the bodies buried along the trail to Mexico. Three Americans, all civilians, were killed in the raid, one soldier and one civilian wounded. The civilian wounded seriously, T. T. Neill, was shot in the face while defending his building. The soldier was Private John Kelly, who was shot in the calf of the leg during the running fight in Mexico between the cavalry and the bandits. Two pack train mules with the columns that crossed the border were killed.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE BUTLER.

Some program at the Butler today. First comes the greatest picture star, Dustin Farnum. Dustin Farnum appears tonight in "The Scarlet Pimpernel." The story has to do with the reign of terror that swept France at the end of the eighteenth century. In England are a band of notables headed by the Scarlet Pimpernel (so called from a little wayside flower he uses). This band is rescuing aristocrats condemned to death. So successful is the work of this band that the Republicans send agents to England to discover the identity of the Scarlet Pimpernel. The leader of these agents, Chauvelin (William Burgess), by a threat against her brother, compels Sir Percy Blakeney (Dustin Farnum's wife) to help him. After she has informed Chauvelin that the Scarlet Pimpernel is her husband, who, because of her activities in behalf of the Republicans, had become cold toward her, she rushes to his aid and helps him thwart Chauvelin and his followers. Knowing his wife has been misled, Sir Percy forgives her. Scenically it is perhaps one of the best shown here in some time and through it runs a thrilling romance and some mystery. An old-time election of Wild West days conducted by a vigilance committee and where rifles do most of the talking is staged in the tenth episode of "The Fighting Trail," wonderfully realistic serial of adventure and the great outdoors, which will be at the Butler today. Backed by vigilantes and all decent folk in the camp the owners force a special election for sheriff and put up Square Deal Hogan, who is all his name applies. See the election and all the excitement to-night. Tomorrow, Louise Glaum, in "Idolators."

GUATAMALA QUAKE IS CONTINUING TODAY
(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The earthquake which destroyed a part of Guatemala City was continuing last night. The destruction of property was unabated. Thousands are shelterless. Americans and other foreigners are safe. The American consul said the water mains had broken and sanitary conditions were becoming bad. The local chapter of the Red Cross is collecting money for relief work. The American Red Cross has offered to aid.

AUSTRIA NEAR FAMINE.
(By Associated Press.) ZURICH, Switzerland, Dec. 28.—Vienna newspapers report Austria's near approach to famine in eggs, vegetables, sugar, bread and milk. As a result of poor and insufficient food there is said to be a large increase in skin diseases manifested in boils, abscesses and eczema. The working capacity of the laborers in mines and munition plants, and the health of the children is seriously menaced. Any further deterioration of the food supply is bound to have inconceivably grave consequences, say Austrian papers.
